DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Response to Arguments

2. Claims 1-14, 17-22, 24 and 27-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jones et al (US 4,937,210) as applied to the rejection to claims 1-22 and 24-33 set forth in the last office action and further discussed below.
3. Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jones et al (US 4,937,210) as set forth in the last office action and further discussed below.

The examiner notes that claim 24 is amended to add aluminosilicate particles having a pre-selected average particle size range of about 0.01 to 50 microns. At col. 3, lines 60-65, particles of aluminosilicate (formed after step (a)) are reported to be between 10 to 100 microns.

Applicants argued that the Jones patent does not teach the claim limitation of a microsphere having an alkali metal oxide content of less than 10 wt%. The process of making microsphere as taught by Jones comprises the step of washing the alkali metal hydroxide-treated hollow microspheres until the washing medium is free of alkali metal ions (col. 3, lines 1-4). Because there is substantially no alkali metal ions, no oxidation can take place to form alkali metal oxide, and thus the microspheres made by the Jones patent necessarily contains less than 10 wt% of alkali metal oxide.

Applicants argued that the microspheres taught by Jones are not concerned with the “very caustic environment”, such as a cement mixture, in which the claimed microspheres are “designed to be incorporated”. This is not a relevant issue because this is not an obviousness rejection. The product taught by Jones meets all the claim limitations as discussed in the last office action and herein, thus a rejection under 35 USC 102 is appropriate regardless of the application of the claimed product, which is not even being recited in the claims.

4. Applicant's arguments filed July 13, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for the reasons set forth above.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
